DarrowEverett LLP

Riley M. Veader - Associate

Email: rveader@darroweverett.com
Phone: (401) 453-1200

Bio

Riley M. Veader is a member of DarrowEverett's Commercial Real Estate Practice Group. She assists clients with sophisticated multistate real estate acquisitions and financing matters, providing support on all aspects of due diligence and transactional execution. Riley's experience includes reviewing and analyzing title and survey materials, preparing local counsel opinion letters, drafting key deal documents, and collaborating with internal and external stakeholders to ensure smooth and timely closings. In addition, Riley also supports the firm's Business Litigation & Alternative Dispute Resolution Practice Group, focusing on managing demands and early-stage negotiations, addressing key issues before cases proceed to formal litigation.

Practice Areas

- Commercial Real Estate

Prior Experience

Prior to becoming barred, Riley worked as an intern and law clerk at DarrowEverett, supporting complex commercial real estate and litigation matters in tasks including due diligence, title analysis and case preparation. She also completed an internship with the Rhode Island Attorney General's Office in both the Intake and Special Victims Units, where she focused on case review, legal research and arraignments. While in law school, Riley served as an SJC Rule 3:03 Certified Student Prosecutor, where she represented the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in various district court matters, ranging from arraignments and motions to jury and bench trials.

Insights

- How Valuation Uncertainty Is Reshaping CRE Deal Structures - via JD Supra, June, 2026
- From Cubicles to Condos: Considerations for Office-to-Residential Conversions - via JD Supra, January, 2026

Bar Admissions

- Rhode Island

Education

- Suffolk University Law School, J.D.
- Roger Williams University, B.A. Anthropology and Sociology, magna cum laude

Accolades

- Professional Excellence in Law award from Rhode Island Monthly

